

Kangaroos

The Kangaroos lives in Australia and New Guinea. They can tolerate in periods of dryness temperatures of more than 40 degrees. It can survive several weeks without water. To avoid being dehydrated, they perspire little and avoid urinating.

The russet-red kangaroos are characterized by a big size of the posterior membres, by their very great jumps and their pocked abdominal. The kangaroos are herbivorous other are insectivorous.

sources : Wikipédia

,<http://adrienaustralie.unblog.fr/la-faune-australienne/les-kangourous>

